Full details of the arrangements for all of the above interest groups can be found on the Droitwich u3a web site at:

<https://droitwichspa.u3asite.uk>

Some groups meet weekly, others every fortnight, or every month. Typically, small groups meet in a member's home while larger groups meet in a local hall or meeting room. Generally, members do not pay to attend group meetings, other than pay a share of the cost of the hire of a room, which is usually about £2 - £3 per meeting. Sometimes groups meet in a cafe or public house where often the use of the room is free provided members buy a drink or food. When meeting in a member's home, members should expect to pay about 50p for refreshments (tea, coffee and biscuits)

Joining an Interest Group

The group information on the website includes the days/times and place where the group meets, a brief description of how the group operates, and a method for sending an email to the Group Leader. If you want to join a group, then start by contacting the Group Leader. If a group is full, the Group Leader maintains any waiting list for places. Alternatively contact our Groups' Co-ordinator who is also usually on hand to talk to at the Monthly Meetings

Interest Group Arrangements with Other Local u3as

Droitwich u3a is a member of the Cotswold Link group of u3as, and our members are permitted to attend ONE interest group at another Cotswold Link u3a on a regular basis without having to become a full member of that u3a. We also have a similar arrangement with some of our other neighbouring u3as. This means that you may be able to attend an interest group in Alcester, Bromsgrove, Evesham, Malvern, Pershore, Redditch,

Worcester or Wyre Forest u3as. You will need to contact the other u3a to find out about the detailed arrangements. However, please note that if the host u3a interest group you wish to join has a waiting list, members of the hosting u3a will have priority over you. Also, some of the above u3as have special charging arrangements to cover the way in which room hire costs are covered

Starting an Interest Group

If you have some special knowledge or interest that you think other members might like to share, then why not start a new interest group? You only need a handful of members to get started, and with a small number, organisation is easy as the group can meet in a member's home. So, think about when the group might meet, and how you might like to organise the group, and then contact the Groups' Co-ordinator and discuss your ideas.

Sometimes members would like to learn something new but don't have the knowledge or confidence to be able to start a group themselves. The Groups' Co-ordinator keeps lists of members who are interested in the formation of new groups and when there are a sufficient number to start, they will arrange a meeting of the interested members to see if some way of starting the group can be found.

Finally, it is worth noting that a Group Leader doesn't have to be an expert in the subject area of the group or have to "lead" the group in a conventional sense. In such cases the group operates a shared learning approach and the Group Leader is simply the point of contact for the group
